

SYPHONS

By preventing direct contact with the process medium or vapour, condensation syphon tubes protect pressure transmitters, gauges and switches from high temperature and help to reduce instrument degradation from process pulsing.

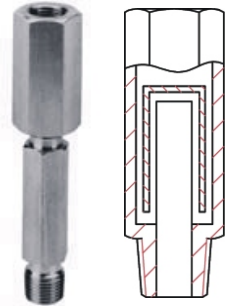

Of stainless steel construction in traditional "O" or "U" form and mounted between the process and the instrument, they are fitted with a standard range of threaded connections.

"PIGTAIL"
OR "O" TYPE

"U" TYPE

STRAIGHT TYPE

ORDERING MATRIX ~ SP

Locate the order code for your specification and enter it into the appropriate box.

